

Annual Home Maintenance Inspection

Especially if you're a new homeowner, an Annual Home Maintenance Inspection can help you understand and plan for the demands of maintaining your home properly. Some tasks are seasonal, and some items require more frequent attention. Let me help you start on the path of responsible homeownership by identifying any issues, and educating you about what should be done each year to keep your home in top condition. Even if you're a veteran homeowner, my inspection can verify whether your home's maintenance is sufficient, or whether any problems have developed during the past year.
